Yep, that can be done.

Subject: RE: FAQ Questions

Sara,

I'm attaching the latest version of the FAQ. It's probably the final version we will use.

- Yes, that is the only question to remove. We want to keep the other questions, and add the ones that are listed in the attached FAQ document.
- No worries if we can't do the expanding answer thing for now. Not a big deal. Would it be possible to have a list of the questions at the top, with each question hyperlinked to the question and answer below?

Thanks,
Dustin

Subject: FAQ Questions

Remove (and archive) the Q: What is the rationale to convert time and space complexity of known attacks into a single number for quantum and classical security?

Note – ref [3] is cited by this Q, so can be removed (and put in the archive) also.

Is this the only Q to be removed? Are the questions in the attached file to be added to the current list of questions? Or are only the FAQs in this file to appear on the FAQ site?

Perhaps only display the Q's, and expand the answers if desired?

I don't think this is possible on the old site, but may be something that can happen when we migrate?

Subject: PQC FRN is almost ready

Sara,

Vickie told me yesterday the FRN package was with Melissa. Hopefully that means it won't take too long until it is posted. Just wanted to give you a heads up and check if you'll be able to post the various documents we have to our website for when it is published. I'm attaching the latest versions of all of them, although the CFP and FAQ will likely have a few small changes which I'll forward to you as soon as I have them. Thanks!

Dustin

- One of the attached files is the "Comments to post unformatted" doc, which has all the public comments we received. I seem to remember we had a formatted version? Do you have that?

Because I'm not seeing it in my files.
