I don't have any pre-determined length in mind. It doesn't need to be long. Just however long it ends up being. I think we also want to avoid naming commenters by name. We just want to summarize what the comments said. Hope that helps.

Jacob,
Would you mind to start writing up a summary of the comments we received? We'll also need to describe the changes we have made as a result, but this might be harder as we haven't completely finished. Thanks,
Dustin
