I'm sorry - your email somehow got included instead of one of our other NIST colleagues. I'll remove it from the list.

Dustin

Subject: Notes on our meeting

Everyone,

Thanks for everyone's comments in our meeting yesterday. We made some progress on resolving the comments. I've made the changes we talked about, and are included in the attached file. A few assignments:

- Ray will write a FAQ item on the number of chosen messages 2^{64} . Since Ray is going to be gone next week, he is also planning on re-writing some of section 4 to address some of the comments on quantum security and the five security levels.
- Daniel will write a FAQ item on how our process is similar, but different than a competition.
- Larry will write a FAQ item on some of the comments on implementations.

We will meet again next Tuesday. We are almost done with the "minor" comments, and then we can move on to the topics that received the most attention. Thanks!

Dustin
